

Another Strange Doctrine

Here is another Strange Doctrine that has been circulating and heralded lately. It seems that even though the man has been given the headship of the family, as in order of authority, this is not enough for some. It is now being said that the LORD brings a wife to a man in sort of a raw, or mold-able form for him to make of her whatever he feels she should be, something like play dough, perhaps. She is to be molded and shaped by the man, into whatever he sees fit. By this molding, it was said, that he makes her complete.

WOW!

However, it seems that the Bible says this: Genesis 2:22 And the rib, which the LORD God had taken from man, made he a woman, and brought her unto the man. Also in Genesis 2:18 , it reads, And the LORD God said, It is not good that the man should be alone; I will make him an help meet for him.

Other versions of the Bible say that this is what the LORD made for Adam when, the LORD, created a woman; a help to him, a help suitable to him, a help like unto himself, a suitable companion to help him, a helper who is right for him, and a helper--as his counterpart.

The scriptures seems to say here, that it is God that did the molding, not man, and that the LORD brought Adam a completed product that is suitable for him already to HELP HIM. You see, it was not good for Adam to be alone. The LORD did not give him an incomplete gift.

As for being complete, "We are complete in Him", that is Jesus.
