

One Man's Garbage is Another Man's Happiness.

One evening we were dropping off two young men after church. We were trying to bring them into the fellowship of God's people. At the time they had been participating in selling drugs. I told them that that was not good, or showing love for others because in the end it was harmful their response "We don't care" What I said, many of them and could end in incarceration or poverty and death. We need a job, what else can we do? Okay, I said, Jesus will give you a job. "Ahhh ". They said disbelieving. He will? "We will ask Him, and He will give you a job", I said. We want a job together, hanging on the back of the garbage truck. That's what we want, we want to work together. If he gives us that job, we will quit selling." He will give you the job. We prayed, and God answered. They both, were happily working, hanging on the back of a garbage truck together. Jesus can do anything. Praise God!
